

Especially for Nursing Mothers

For many women, the decision to continue to breastfeed when returning to work or school depends upon the availability of a place to pump, and the time to do it. There are five lactation rooms on the Medford campus, open to students, faculty, staff, and visitors. While reserving a space in advance with the room administrator is recommended, you may drop in if the room isn't in use.

You can also arrange to use an ad-hoc space elsewhere on campus. Please contact Johny Lainé, ADA Specialist in the Office of Equal Opportunity: 617.627.6363 | johny.laine@tufts.edu to make arrangements.

To reserve and access a room, please contact that room's administrator between 9 am and 5 pm.
